This lesson explains how worldview integration always takes place in every educational effort. An analogy is presented that allows participants to better understand what biblical worldview integration is. A model is also presented that shows what can be called a “worldview progression.”

Lesson 19 Salt & Light

One of the most important challenges that Jesus gave in the Sermon on the Mount was that Christians are to be “salt & light”. This lesson gives a detailed explanation of what it means to be “salt & light” and how this applies to the education of children and youth.

Lesson 20 The End of Education

Lesson 23 God’s Homework Assignment Described & Its Priority

Parents and other Christians need to understand what specifically God’s homework assignment is when it comes to educating children and youth. This lesson expounds on verses 4&5 in Psalm 127. Participants are challenged to perform a spiritual eye exam in this lesson. Understanding this concept is critically important to the education we give our children and youth.

Lesson 30 Arguments Against Kingdom Education Principles

This lesson is placed here as a follow up to Lessons #21-29. In this lesson several common arguments are presented that are used to rationalize why Christians don't follow the biblical principles presented when it comes to educating future generations. These arguments are addressed from a biblical perspective.

Lesson 31 The Influence of a Teacher

James gives a strong warning to Christians about how God will judge those who teach others. Since parents, church leaders and educators are all teachers, this warning applies to all adult Christians. Three critical influences that every teacher has on his/her students are presented and explained.

This lesson compares the world's concept of excellence and a biblical view of excellence. It shows how biblical excellence focuses on character and performance that results from godly character.

Lesson 37 Academic Excellence

This lesson strives to define what is really meant by academic excellence. It will guide participants in understanding the danger of academic excellence when it becomes an end goal of the education our children and youth receive. This lesson also suggests important training that must take place for teachers if academic excellence is to be addressed biblically.

Lesson 38 Kingdom Education Principle #14

Participants will be guided into a study of God's purpose for education. The lesson also answers the question, What does today's education prepare students for? Lesson 42 Education That Achieves God's Purpose

This lesson builds on God's purpose for creating man in His image. Once man's purpose for his existence is established, participants will learn how to educate students so that they can fulfill God's purpose for their existence. This is a video series that includes a listening guide, leader guide and ACSI philosophy checklist. A full description can be found in the section titled, Kingdom Education for 21st Century

Kingdom Perspectives: Addressing Issues of Interest in Today's Post-Truth Culture

Each week Dr. Schultz writes a blog on a wide range of topics. These posts can be read by individual staff and board members, church leaders and parents. Individuals can sign up in order to receive the weekly blogs automatically or they can be forwarded to individuals or groups as an assignment.

After reading a post, it can be discussed in a group setting for deeper understanding. Some topics are covered in a series of blog posts. When read and discussed as an entire series, C.E.U. credit may be earned.

Kingdom Insights: Articles and Booklets for the Home, Church and School

This section of resources includes a variety of articles and small booklets by various authors. Each resource is presented as an aid to parents, church leaders and educators in their efforts to raise children and youth in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. These resources are designed to be read by individuals but can be discussed in group settings for deeper understanding of the various topics covered. Again, these resources can be included in staff development and count towards hours needed for C.E.U. credit.

In addition to several articles and essays, there are four booklets on key topics for parents, church leaders and Christian educators. Each of these short booklets includes a study guide that will help readers apply the information to everyday life. Each booklet can be used for a person to receive 1 CEU in staff development through a detailed use of the material and the accompanying study guide. The four booklets are listed below.

Home Invasion: Protecting Our Family From Attack

This booklet is based on the warning in 2 John not to let false philosophy enter one's home. Today's home is under constant attack from false ideas that go contrary to the doctrine of Jesus Christ. The study guide challenges readers to develop a plan to protect their lives, homes and ministries from attack.

Shepherding: A Parent's Responsibility

Parents have been given the primary responsibility for raising their children in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." Parenting can be likened to the role of a shepherd in the OT. This booklet presents the characteristics of good and bad shepherds found in Scripture and applies this to parents in today's world. The study guide challenges readers to develop a plan to protect their lives, homes and ministries from attack.

20/20 Vision: Preparing Our Children For The Future

Using the analogy of one's annual eye exam, this booklet guides Christians, especially parents, on how to prepare their children for the future. Many Christians suffer from spiritual myopia or hyperopia when it comes to preparing their children for the future. The question is asked of all Christians, Where do you want your child to be in 10,000 years? The study guide challenges readers to develop a plan to protect their lives, homes and ministries from attack.

Contaminated Water: The Poisoning of Our Children and Youth

Christians changed their source from where their children receive their knowledge and wisdom in the mid-1800s. The consequences of this change have been disastrous. This booklet parallels what happened when one city changed its water source and when Christians changed the source of their children's education. The study guide challenges readers to develop a plan to protect their lives, homes and ministries from attack.

Kingdom Education for the 21st Century: Approved for ACSI Philosophy Certification

The video series, Kingdom Education for the 21st Century, is approved for teachers needing to fulfill the philosophy requirement for ACSI certification. It may be downloaded and completed by the individual teacher.

Several schools use this video series as an in-service resource for new faculty and staff. It can be viewed in one sitting. However, it is best used during two sessions on separate days.

The total viewing time is 6.5 hours. Total time (including discussion time): 10-12 hours.
